

INRA Class Announcement: Rosemaling in Os

This August Julie Anderson will be teaching a four-week class in the Os style. In this class students can paint the given design as a project or adapt the design. Each Zoom class session will be filled with instruction where you can paint along in the class and/or work outside class between sessions.

The class will take place on Thursdays, August 4, 11, 18, & 25, 2022. Each night of class will meet from 6:30 – 8:30 PM for instruction and include an additional hour from 8:30-9:30 PM for studio/painting time. Class instruction will be recorded, studio time will not. Class sessions will include discussion of how to adapt the design to various wooden shapes, and adjust size, color, flower, borders and/or details to make the project your own.

Julie will paint the design elements step by step and have a rectangular and square design available for your use. Those who want a design challenge can adjust the square to an octagon shape tray. If you are doing nesting trays, we will talk about how you design for each of the other trays. There will be an opportunity to ask questions and get feedback on adapting design and painting

Project Piece: Square or Rectangular Tray

Advanced Registration May 3 - June 1, 2022, Open Registration May 10 – June 1, 2022. Instruction packets will be delivered through Google Drive.

Recordings of the Zoom class sessions will be available for one month after class only to the students who registered for the class.

Bio for Julie Anderson:

I have been teaching Rosemaling since 1998 and love to share Rosemaling with others and be part of the Rosemaling community. In the fall of 2020, I started teaching virtually. I teach mainly in the Hallingdal, Telemark and Os styles with a focus on techniques and helping students learn how to interpret old work, color, design and ways to express themselves in their painting. However, I paint and have taught other styles of folk art, such as Swedish Dalamalning/Kurbits and German Bauernmalerei, and have studied with American, Norwegian and Swedish artists who paint these styles.

I have an honorable mention in the 2019 Vesterheim Norwegian American Museum National Norwegian-American Folk Art Exhibition and was featured in the Artist Spotlight by MacPherson's:
